In a now viral video, an Indian man from Uttar Pradesh's Deoria village proposed to his girlfriend before the entire gathered crowd. He fulfilled her dreams as she danced on stage in front of everyone after completing her graduation from college, and the dance was captured by a state government official. In this video, he is seen going down on one knee and pulling out a ring from his pocket before asking for her hand in marriage. The entire scene has been dubbed in Hindi language so that all viewers can enjoy themselves. She said, "I am waiting for him to propose to me after I complete my graduation." She further added that she will not just accept anything as long as it is a ring. The video of the proposal received a lot of appreciation from many facebook users and many viewers commented on how the young man's love shows a positive message for everyone, and it shouldn't be a matter of a big deal. Some students at her college commented saying "He is a good guy with high morals. I wish he also proposed to me. Everyone should be like him", "That was the best way to propose", "No one can resist her enthusiasm". Some on the other hand described him as 'eccentric' and some commented on how they felt bad for him. People are still confused whether this proposal scene was shot in the United States or India, but many people believe its an Indian proposal. No comments have been released by the girl's side regarding this incident. The video has received millions of views in less than a week after it was uploaded to facebook by Harrish Iyer, who is a top state official in Deoria, Uttar Pradesh. The video was taken down, which caused many commenters to feel provoked and demand answers from Mr Iyer about why his video has been removed. No comments have been given yet. This video is shot in the most beautiful way with the beautiful background of the girl's college campus. Various camera angels are used to capture this footage, which makes it look very professional. The song used in this video is Neha Bhasin's 'Mahiya' song from Vishal Bhardwaj's movie 'Maqbool'. This song is very popular among youth due to its melodic tune which matches with that of a love story. The music for this song was composed by Vishal Bharadwaj and lyrics were written by Gulzar. This video is being discussed in social media news sites around the world. One YouTube video uploaded by Mr Iyer shows the response of students at that girl's college. "She is an extremely wonderful human being! I wish that guy does not leave her. She will be someone special to him, because she will always remember this day". This video received immense response from both viewers and fans of Mr Iyer, who are appreciating his work by leaving thousands of comments. The content in this video has been censored by many news websites around the globe due to copyright issues with Hindi movie 'Maqbool' which was used in the background music to the proposal scene.
